For many of her classmates, it will come as no surprise that Tiffany Crenshaw wouldn't let anything get in the way of achieving her goal of becoming a nurse. Even amid the COVID-19 crisis and the many obstacles thrown at her, the mother of four still found a way to get signed up for an open testing slot on March 25th, 2020. She passed the NCLEX on her first try!

This same no-excuse attitude allowed her to thrive at HCI College and push through all of the challenges of a rigorous nursing program. She found comfort in the fact that the tools and resources the nursing program requires their students to use prepared her well for the exam. She said, "using ATI and going through Capstone and VATI helped make me confident in my ability to pass the licensing exam." She added, "The sooner a student falls in love with ATI, the better it will be for them in the end."

From all of us here at HCI College, congratulations on your milestone achievement. We are all very proud of you and wish you the very best in your nursing career!
