![HCI College Logo]

COLLEGE
LIBRARY SERVICES

moodle

HCI College offers general education requirements through distance learning. Moodle is the web-based platform that we use for online courses. This platform can be accessed from anywhere 24/7. Content is easily accessible across different web browsers and devices with a default mobile-compatible interface. To access Moodle https://courses.hci.edu you will need a username and password. For more information, please contact:

HCI COLLEGE LIBRARIES

West Palm Beach Campus
1764 N Congress
Second-floor #202
West Palm Beach, FL 33409
(561) 586-0121

Fort Lauderdale Campus
1201 Cypress Creek Road Ste 101
Fort Lauderdale, FL 33309
(954) 626-0255

Monday-Thursday
9:00 am – 9:00 pm
Friday
9:00 am – 4:00 pm

www.HCI.edu

HCI COLLEGE

OUR LIBRARIES

HCI College Libraries are located on both of our campuses, providing services and resources to support the curriculum and our students' needs. The students have open access to the physical collection during campus operating hours. Students can have access to computers with a printing facility, and a study area. A virtual collection is available 24/7 through LIRN.

LIRN
Library & Information Resources Network

LIRN stands for Library Information Resource Network. It offers access to thousands of resources such as: journals, eBooks, videos, 3D models among other formats available at any time. LIRN is a user-friendly network that allows users to have access to scholarly materials within a variety of databases. Please contact or visit the librarian to obtain the username and password.

https:proxy.lirn.net/HCICollege

LIFELONG BECOME ACTIVE

Through Library services we provide students with the necessary skills to become active and independent learners. Critical thinking skills and knowledge are jointly developed by determining the validity of the information. These are some of the orientations we offer:

• APA style 7th edition
• LIRN
• Reflective writing

The orientations can be offered individually or in groups at the library, the classroom, or through Zoom at a scheduled time. For more information please contact:

libraryservices@hci.edu